

CITY IN BRIEF

Son Has Tonsillitis.

Charles Levin, agent for the C. R. Y. & P. at Naco, with his family was in town yesterday, coming over to have an operation performed upon his young son, who has tonsillitis.

Rossi to Marry?

D. P. Rossi was seen about town in a dress suit and silk hat last night. He said he was going to get married, but refused to divulge the name of the woman of his choice.

Tressler-Cowan.

J. H. Tressler and Miss Anna Cowan were united in marriage at Tombstone November 18. Relatives of both bride and groom witnessed the ceremony. Rev. Hammet officiating.

Miss Cowan was formerly a teacher in Bisbee and Mr. Tressler is a half-brother of B. B. Kohler, superintendent of the Sacramento mine. The happy couple left immediately for Los Angeles, and from there will go to San Francisco and Washington, where they expect to reside. Those present at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Cowan, Henry and Evelyn Cowan, and Mrs. R. E. Kohler.

To Join Team.

Eddie Ward left yesterday for Los Angeles. From there he will join one of the teams in the winter league and play ball at his old position probably until spring.

Back to Bisbee.

J. C. Smith, who has been in Idaho for several months engaged in mining, has returned to Bisbee and will locate here once more.

Case Dismissed.

George Kovich, charged with grand larceny by another Slavonian, was discharged in Justice Burdick's court yesterday. The complainant alleged the defendant stole $75 from his pockets. The defendant said he reached into the complainant's pockets for a match and came across two ten-dollar bills, and as the latter owed him $8.50 he proceeded to deduct the amount, returning the proper change. The complainant could not prove that he had $75, and then it developed that the money had been taken from the pocket of the complainant's brother's clothes. Now it will be up to the brother to prosecute for the theft of the $8.50 if he so desires.

Personal Mention

H. T. Cuthbert of Douglas, is in the city for a short stay.

Attorney J. M. O'Connell returned from Tombstone yesterday.

C. I. McKelligan yesterday returned from the county seat where he had been on legal business.

John Campbell of Cananea, returned to his home yesterday.

F. B. King, division superintendent of the E. P. & S. W. passed yesterday in this city.

Constable P. McRae and Mrs. McRae left Bisbee yesterday. Mr. McRae bound for Tombstone while Mrs. McRae will visit friends near St. David for a short time.

Art Treasures at Ocala.

A great many art treasures are being dug up at Ocala, the seaport of ancient Rome. There are some who even go so far as to say that it may rival Pompeii in the beauty of the objects which are yet to be discovered.

COMMERCE LAW CHANGES ARE PROPOSED

ATTORNEY GENERAL WICKER-SHAM THINKS THEY SHOULD BE MODIFIED TO GUARANTEE FAIRNESS

(By Associated Press.)

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 19.—The modification of the interstate commerce act to obtain the reasonable of rates to all and fairness of practices in the operation of the interstate railways, was suggested tonight at the annual banquet of the Commercial club, given in commemoration of the signing of the John Jay commercial treaty.

Wickersham responded to the toast "The Interstate Commerce Commission." He advocated a "national incorporation law" and said that should such law demonstrate its value, it might be wise to ultimately prohibit state corporations from engaging in interstate commerce.

"For the purpose," said Wickersham, "of preventing a conflict of decisions and delays and uncertainties in the enforcement of the interstate law which now exists, it is proposed to create a special tribunal to be known as the commerce court, in which shall be exclusively vested all jurisdiction now possessed by the circuit and district courts and circuit courts of appeal in the United States with respect to enforcement or review of orders and decrees of the interstate commerce commission."

"To remove the commission from a position of prosecutor or litigator it is proposed that no proceedings to enforce or defend the orders of the interstate commerce commission be conducted by this department of justice."

VERDICT IN UTAH COAL CASE IS SET ASIDE

COURT OF APPEALS THINKS THE SHERMAN LAW NOT VIOLATED BY UNION PACIFIC, ET AL.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 19.—Judge Walter H. Sanborn of the United States circuit court of appeals handed down an opinion today setting aside the verdict and ordering a new trial in the case of the United States against the Union Pacific Coal company, Union Pacific railway, Oregon Short Line railway, James M. Moore and Everett Buckingham, in which they are charged with having violated the Sherman anti-trust law by forming an unlawful combination.

While the suit was brought in the name of the United States, proceedings were started by a Salt Lake coal dealer named Sharp, who charged the coal company and the defendant railways with having refused to sell and haul coal for him. Sharp charged that the Union Pacific Coal company refused to sell him coal and that the railways refused to haul the commodity because he advertised and sold his coal at a less figure than his competitors.

Judge Sanborn, in the opinion, held that there was no substantial evidence of any combination between any two of the defendants, either to refuse to sell coal to Sharp or to refuse to transport it for him.

The lower court found the defendants guilty of the Sherman anti-trust law and imposed a fine of $1,000 and costs on Moore and $3,000 and costs on the other defendants.

FARMER BESTS LAWYER ON THE DIAMOND

FRED T. CLARKE.

Fred T. Clarke, manager of the Pittsburg team, is a native of Kansas, where he was born 25 years ago. He was reared on a farm. He first played ball with the Maconites of Des Moines, Ia., back in 1892. His showing then was so good that he was the next year engaged by the Memphis club of the Southern league, from which he was secured by the late William Barnie, who was then manager of the Louisville club. He made good in fast company from the start, and soon became the star and chief attraction of the Louisville team, with which team he remained exclusively until transferred by President Dreyfus to Pittsburg, where in 1906 he was entrusted with the team's success as manager-captain. He not only in this trying position kept up his fine personal work, but secured the greatest possible results, coming in second in 1900 and landing the pennant three successive seasons—thus achieving the triple distinction of giving Pittsburg her first pennant, giving the west her first pennant since 1887, and giving the league the first champion playing-manager since 1886. Aside from his fine executive ability, Clarke is a grand ball player, excelling as ground coverer, fielder, batsman and base runner. He is five feet ten inches high, weighs 165 pounds and is wonderfully fast on his feet. In 1904 he became disabled in midseason, which was a large factor in the team's failure to win a fourth consecutive pennant. Since 1905, under Clarke's management, the Pittsburg team has always been a great factor in the National league races; last season the team was a pennant possibility the last week of the season, finishing tied with New York for second place; and this season the team has been a comparatively easy pennant-winner. Manager Clarke now has the distinction of being the only manager in active service who has won four National league championships. He is reputed to be worth $150,000 and there is talk that he will not play next season.

LEADER OF MICHIGAN TEAM

Capt. Allice of the Wolverines has been playing a star game this season. He showed up especially strong in the battle against Ohio university. He brought about nine of the 99 points scored by kicking field goals and made possible two of the touchdowns by making two runs of 45 yards each.

This is Butchery, Not Sport. They have a queer idea of sportsmanship in France. It reports from that country are to be credited. Over here they entice pheasants to get accustomed to coming out along certain paths to eat the corn which is put out for the purpose of having these wild, innocent birds repeat when they are pronounced come along with a figure. In other words they induce these birds into a trap where they are ruthlessly slaughtered by the sportsmen and perhaps thousands of who call themselves sportsmen.

Natural Gas for Train Lighting.

An innovation in railroad train lighting has been adopted by the Western Maryland railroad, which taps the West Virginia gas fields. Two of its best trains between Cumberland and Baltimore are being equipped with storage tanks for natural gas. If the experiment proves a success the road plans to use only natural gas in all its trains.

HUGH JENNINGS.

Hugh Jennings was born April 1, 1870, at Pittston, Pa., and first played professionally during the latter part of the season of 1890, when he caught for the Allentown team of the Eastern league and had an excellent record, both in fielding and batting. Jennings commenced the next season as catcher of the Lehigh (Pa.) club, and while with this team he distinguished himself to the extent that Manager Jack Chapman signed him for the Louisville club, then of the American association. He started as Louisville's first baseman and made a good impression. When Harry Taylor returned to the team Jennings was shifted to short field and here, too, he made good. In 1902 Jennings was traded, along with Taylor, by Louisville's new manager, Billy Barnie, to the Baltimore club, which had just come under Hanlon's control. Jennings fitted in well with the bustling, ambitious team Hanlon had gathered and he, McGraw, Kelley and Keeler formed the famous quartet which was the backbone of the champion Baltimore team for three seasons. During the years 1894-95-96 Jennings played wonderful ball and was rated in point of dash, speed, brains, strong batting and base running the greatest short-stop the game has yet produced. In 1899 he was transferred to Brooklyn when the Baltimore and Brooklyn clubs were consolidated. He injured his arm to such an extent that he had to give up short field and play first base. In 1901-02 he played with the Philadelphia team as first baseman and captain and manager. In 1903 he retired from the National league and went back to his first love, Baltimore, whose Eastern league team he managed in 1903-04-05-06. In between times he studied law and three years ago was admitted to the Maryland bar. He had intended retiring to devote himself to the practice of law, but the Detroit club made him so tempting an offer that he could not refuse. Jennings has saved a large part of his earnings.

"BABE" ADAMS TELLS HOW HE BEAT THE TIGERS

Pittsburg Pitcher Who Won Three Championship Games Says Slow Ball Did It.

Charles (Babe) Adams, explaining how he defeated Detroit three times in the world's series, said:

"My success in pitching can be attributed to the slow drop ball. I discovered in the first game that Detroit could not hit this kind of ball to any extent. When they would connect it would be a short hit to the infield, and Pittsburgh has an infield which can take care of such hits. "The slow drop I alternated, first out and then in. I went to the outside of the plate, beyond the reach of the batter, but, if the batsman was within hitting distance the ball was low and its slowness caused a false estimate of the strength required from the batter. In such a quick test as a batter's false estimate is a dangerous thing for the batting side. The ball which went inside the plate and dropped at the same time was the most effective I used. Detroit could do nothing with that at all. "But I did not overwork the drop ball. To do that would have been to lack control. Gibson stood up the batters and when I was pitching was to put them straight over the plate. Detroit has a good batting assemblage and it was necessary to take every precaution with them. The Tigers' rallies in several games demonstrated this. To lose control during one of these rallies would have meant the loss of the game. The most trying times while I was pitching was when Detroit showed one of those famous spurts of strength at bat. I worked harder than ever and was fortunate enough to hold control. The balls that went straight over the plate were generally hit by Detroit. Occasionally one was wallowed to good effect, but in the main we knew where there was to be a hit and the infield and outfield acted accordingly."

Tries to Suffer with Broken Leg. Joe Green, a player of the Lehigh club, gave a display of gameness seldom equaled on the diamond in one of the post-season games with the Chicago Cubs. His leg was broken as he slid into third base. Moran, the Cub catcher, threw the ball to left field in trying to catch him and Green attempted to score by hopping on one foot. He was within three feet of the plate when put out.

Danville Gets Decatur Team. The One Hundred Thousand club of Danville purchased the franchise of the Decatur team in the Three I league and Cedar Rapids was dropped because it fell below the minimum attendance figures.

Peanut Cookies.

Cream two tablespoonfuls of butter, add one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, one beaten egg, one teaspoonful of baking powder, sifted with one-half cupful of flour, two tablespoonfuls of milk, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, one-half a teaspoonful of lemon juice and one-half cupful of chopped peanuts. Drop from a teaspoon on a baking sheet. This recipe makes 24 cookies.

Teach Care of Babies. Philadelphia's department of health has organized an alliance for the care of babies. Voluntary service will be rendered by 150 physicians and co-operating committees have been organized in every ward. Lectures are being given in the school buildings on Wednesday afternoons under the auspices of the Philadelphia Alliance for the Care of Babies. The campaign is under the direction of the department of public health, the board of education, the congress of mothers and the home and school league.

Use of Chewing Gum. The extent of the use of chewing gum among the people of the United States is illustrated by the fact that the importation of "chicle" in 1908, chiefly for use in the manufacture of chewing gum, amounted to more than 4,000,000 pounds. This article, "chicle," is obtained in southern Mexico from the trunks of the sapodilla plum tree, and the importation of this gum during the last decade has amounted to about 30,000,000 pounds, or over 12,000 tons, valued at over $5,000,000.

Not the Thirteenth Ship.

Fear has arisen in the breast of a New Zealander in England caused by the announcement that the Dreadnaught which his native country is to give to the empire will be the thirteenth ship presented to the British navy. However, the Thirteenth ship is not the Dreadnaught but the hospital ship Maine, which was fitted up for use in the South African war, and has since served principally in the Mediterranean. The Maine was the gift of Mr. Baker, an American citizen.
